STORY OF A DEW-DROP.

ENDERDREESE PROPERTY.

In a barn-bell sup, at the break of day, Sparking and bright a dew-drop tay;

When raddy murn the east o'empresol, The dow-drop rought the rays stated,

And blending with them the flowerest blue, It rivaled the gent with its unboute line.

But the sun, where he rose, was wroth to see A dew-drop could alreed more beightly than h

So he sent down a brane to the hore-hell  $m_{\tilde{q}}$ , And drank the drop, in its hearity, up.

And such is the law in Nature's plan; Subject to it is the fate of man;

Lafe is the dow in the have bell cup.

And Death the form that shall drink it.up. -

A Princeroan John -In a western State one of the political parties had for twenty years been in the habit of holding their nominating conventions at the house of Mr. G-

He happened on a recent occasion, for the first time, to be in when they had finished their business, and heard a little delegate move that "the convention adjourn size die."

"Size die!" said Mr. G.— to a person standing near, "where's that?"

"Why, that's away in the northern part of the county," said his neighbor.

"Hold on, if you please, Mr. Chairman, said the haddord, with great emphasis and earnestness. "hold on, six! I'd like to be heard on that question. I have kept a public house now for more than twenty years. I am a poor man. I have always belonged to the party, and never split in my life. This is the most control location in the county, and it's where we vealways met. Eve never had no caked for an office, and have worked day and night for the party, and now, I think, sir, it is contempiable to go to adjourn this convention way up to Sine Die.

A door story is told of a noted Wall street broker, who was the first, after the Ohio Lite and Trust Company, to fail. The story suns thus:

In the — day of August, he failed; but not the first time by several. He ordered his confidential clerk to make a schedule which would pay fifty cents on the dollar. The clerk being somewhat startled, said

"Why, Mr. —, you can't do that ""
"Woll," said be, "that's what I always have failed at, and if my assets are not sufficient, I'll pay out of my own pocket."

As Irish counsellor having lost his cause, which had been tried before the three Jedges-one of whom was extermed a very able lawyer, one of whom was externed a very able lawyer, and the two others very indifferent—some of his brother barristers were merry on the occasion. "Well now" says be, "who, the deace could help it when there were a handred Judges on the beach?" "A hundred Judges' there were but three " "By St. Patrick," replied by, "there was a one and two ciphers." -

The Norwich Bulletin says. Not long since, a religious society in Commention; not to decide that color they should paint their meeting house. Some proposed one color, and some monther. At last, said one, "I move that we paint strong color, for Denean Smith has had his most painted that color for a number of years, and it grows brighter and brighter every year."

"Mr. Wiggles, have you got a match?" "Yes sir, a match if the the all loop. That she is, mixing up though. Wiggles pointed to his wife, and then all from the front door. The last we have of Wiggles he was known it down the road-holly pursued by a red headed lady with a cistere pole. Pour Wiggles?
